Management comments

Consistent and compounding growth with beer volume up by 1.1% and a 23.4% Underlying EPS increase

The momentum of our business continued in 2Q26, with broad-based volume growth and a 23.4% increase in Underlying EPS. While the consumer environment remains dynamic, consistent execution of our strategy and investment in our megabrands and mega platforms enabled solid top- and bottom-line results. We strengthened our portfolio brand power and estimate that we gained market share across our footprint, maintaining or gaining share in 70% of our markets.

Revenue increased by 5.6%, with total volume growth of 0.9% and a revenue per hl increase of 4.2%, driven by revenue management and positive mix from premiumization and Beyond Beer. Beer volumes grew by 1.1%, with record high second quarter volumes in Mexico, Colombia, and Ecuador. Beer volumes in Brazil returned to growth, and in the US we delivered continued top-line growth and market share gains in both beer and Beyond Beer.

EBITDA increased by 5.8% with flattish margins as overhead management enabled increased sales and marketing investment and offset transactional FX headwinds. Free cash flow increased by 2.5 billion USD versus HY25 to 3.9 billion USD, driven by disciplined execution and the continued optimization of our business.

Key highlights from the quarter included: global megabrand momentum, with Corona, Stella Artois and Michelob Ultra growing revenue by 17%, 19% and 21%, respectively, outside of their home markets; successful activation of the FIFA World Cup across our markets, supporting growth of Michelob Ultra in the US and providing a platform to expand the brand across key markets in Latin America; no-alcohol beer revenue growth of 27%, Beyond Beer revenue growth of 44%, and BEES Marketplace GMV growth of 50% to 1.2 billion USD.

Non-underlying net finance income includes mark-to-market gains on derivative instruments entered into in order to hedge our share-based payment programs and shares issued in relation to the combinations with Grupo Modelo and SAB.

The number of shares covered by the hedging of our share-based payment program, the deferred share instrument and the restricted shares are shown below, together with the opening and closing share prices.

The HY26 and HY25 effective tax rates were positively impacted by non-taxable gains from derivatives related to the hedging of share-based payment programs and the hedging of the shares issued in a transaction related to the combinations with Grupo Modelo and SAB. The increase in Normalized ETR in HY26 compared to HY25 was primarily due to negative country mix.

Normalized EBITDA, Normalized EBIT and Underlying Profit are non-IFRS financial measures used by AB InBev to reflect the company's underlying performance. Underlying EPS and constant currency Underlying EPS are non-IFRS financial measures that AB InBev believes are useful to investors because they facilitate comparisons of EPS from period to period.

Normalized EBITDA is calculated by adjusting profit attributable to equity holders of AB InBev to exclude: (i) non-controlling interest; (ii) income tax expense; (iii) share of results of associates; (iv) non-underlying share of results of associates; (v) net finance income or cost; (vi) non-underlying net finance income or cost; (vii) non-underlying items above EBIT; and (viii) depreciation, amortization and impairment.

Underlying Profit is calculated by adjusting profit attributable to equity holders of AB InBev to exclude: (i) non-underlying items and (ii) hyperinflation impacts. Underlying EPS is calculated as Underlying Profit divided by the weighted average number of ordinary and restricted shares. Constant currency Underlying EPS is calculated as Underlying EPS excluding the effects of foreign currency translation by translating current period figures using the exchange rates from the same period in the prior year.

Normalized EBITDA, Normalized EBIT and Underlying Profit are not accounting measures under IFRS and should not be considered as an alternative to profit attributable to equity holders as a measure of operational performance, or an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity. Underlying EPS and constant currency Underlying EPS are not accounting measures under IFRS and should not be considered as alternatives to earnings per share as a measure of operating performance on a per share basis. These non-IFRS financial measures do not have a standard calculation method and AB InBev's definition of Normalized EBITDA, Normalized EBIT, Underlying Profit, Underlying EPS and constant currency Underlying EPS may not be comparable to that of other companies.

Our free cash flow (defined as cash flow from operating activities less net capex) increased by 2 526 million USD to reach 3 881 million USD in HY26. Our cash and cash equivalents decreased by (4 071) million USD in HY26, compared to a decrease of (4 438) million USD in HY25, with the following movements:

- Our cash flow from operating activities reached 5 241 million USD in HY26 compared to 2 704 million USD in HY25. The increase was driven by increased profit of the period and changes in working capital for HY26 compared to HY25. Changes in working capital in the first half of 2026 and 2025 reflect higher working capital levels at the end of June than at year-end as a result of seasonality.
- Our cash outflow from investing activities was 1 807 million USD in HY26 compared to a cash outflow of 1 306 million USD in HY25. The increase in the cash outflow was mainly due to the acquisition of an 85% controlling stake in BeatBox, a ready-to-drink alcohol beverage business in the United States. Out of the total HY26 capital expenditures, approximately 25% was used to improve the company's production facilities while 60% was used for logistics and commercial investments and 15% was used for the purchase of hardware and software and improving administrative capabilities.
- Our cash outflow from financing activities amounted to 7 505 million USD in HY26, as compared to a cash outflow of 5 837 million USD in HY25. The increase in the cash outflow versus HY25 was primarily driven by the completion of the reacquisition of the 49.9% minority stake in our US-based metal container plants for 2.9 billion USD.

Our net debt increased to 64.2 billion USD as of 30 June 2026 from 60.9 billion USD as of 31 December 2025. Our net debt to normalized EBITDA ratio was 2.86x as of 30 June 2026. Our optimal capital structure is a net debt to normalized EBITDA ratio of around 2x.

We continue to proactively manage our debt portfolio. 98% of our bond portfolio holds a fixed-interest rate, 52% is denominated in currencies other than USD and maturities are well-distributed across the next several years.

As of 30 June 2026, we had total liquidity of 18.1 billion USD, which consisted of 10.1 billion USD available under committed long-term credit facilities and 8.0 billion USD of cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments in debt securities less bank overdrafts.

Notes

To facilitate the understanding of AB InBev's underlying performance, the analyses of growth, including all comments in this press release, unless otherwise indicated, are based on organic growth and normalized numbers. In other words, financials are analyzed eliminating the impact of changes in currencies on translation of foreign operations, and scope changes. Since 1Q24, the definition of organic revenue growth has been amended to cap the price growth in Argentina to a maximum of 2% per month (26.8% year-over-year). Corresponding adjustments are made to all income statement related items in the organic growth calculations through scope changes. Scope changes also represent the impact of acquisitions and divestitures, the start or termination of activities or the transfer of activities between segments, curtailment gains and losses and year over year changes in accounting estimates and other assumptions that management does not consider as part of the underlying performance of the business. Beer volumes and revenue include primarily beer, no-alcohol beer, other malt-based alcohol beverages and spirits-based beverages. Non-beer volumes and revenue include primarily carbonated soft drinks and energy drinks. In addition, beer and non-beer categories include not only brands that we own or license, but also third-party brands that we brew and sell, and third-party products that we sell through our distribution network. The organic growth of our global brands, Budweiser, Stella Artois, and Corona excludes exports to Australia for which a perpetual license was granted to a third party upon disposal of the Australia operations in 2020. All references per hectoliter (per hl) exclude US non-beverage activities. Whenever presented in this document, all performance measures (EBITDA, EBIT, profit, tax rate, EPS) are presented on a "normalized" basis, which means they are presented before non-underlying items. Non-underlying items are either income or expenses which do not occur regularly as part of the normal activities of the Company. They are presented separately because they are important for the understanding of the underlying sustainable performance of the Company due to their size or nature. Normalized measures are additional measures used by management and should not replace the measures determined in accordance with IFRS as an indicator of the Company's performance. Effective 1 January 2026, Cervecería Bucanero S.A., a Cuban company in which we indirectly hold a 50% equity interest through our subsidiary Ambev, is accounted for as an associate using the equity method of accounting. The impact of this change in presentation is reflected as a scope change. We are reporting the results from Argentina applying hyperinflation accounting since 3Q18. The IFRS rules (IAS 29) require us to restate the year-to-date results for the change in the general purchasing power of the local currency, using official indices before converting the local amounts at the closing rate of the period. In 2Q26, we reported a negative impact from hyperinflation accounting on the profit attributable to equity holders of AB InBev of 7 million USD. The impact in 2Q26 Basic EPS was less than 0.01 USD. Values in the figures and annexes may not add up, due to rounding. 2Q26 and HY26 EPS is based upon a weighted average of 1 976 million shares compared to a weighted average of 1 989 million shares for 2Q25 and HY25.
