

S&P Dow Jones Indices and the Mexican Stock Exchange to launch a new ESG Index to replace the S&P/BMV IPC Sustainable Index

MEXICO CITY, MARCH 4, 2020: S&P Dow Jones Indices (“S&P DJI”) and The Mexican Stock Exchange (“BMV”) announced today that they will launch a new ESG index for the Mexican market in early April that will give the local and international investor community a new tool based on global ESG principles and scores.

As a result, effective Monday, March 23, 2020, S&P DJI will no longer calculate or rebalance the S&P/BMV IPC Sustainable Index. A more detailed announcement will be forthcoming in the following weeks.

As previously announced, S&P DJI, in association with SAM (a division of S&P Global), one of the world’s leaders in sustainable investing and research, became the official score provider for S&P/BMV ESG index products last year.
