Rotoplas strengthens its management team with Organizational Transformation Vice President

Grupo Rotoplas S.A.B. de C.V. (BMV: AGUA) ("Rotoplas" or "the Company"), the leading water solutions company in the Americas, announces that yesterday, Diego Ponce joined the Company as Vice President of Organizational Transformation, reporting directly to the Chief Executive Officer.

Diego has extensive experience leading transformations, innovative and disruptive projects related to strategic and digital transformation, advanced analytical and big data, as well as digital marketing.

Before joining Rotoplas, he served as Vice President of Innovation and Digital Transformation in one of the most important banks in Panama and Central America, being a key player in the launching of a 100% digital bank.

As the head of the recently created vicepresidency, his main role is to ensure the execution and timing of the "flow" transformation program, in order to accomplish the short and long term value creation objectives that Rotoplas has established.
