IF I AM INVESTED IN AN ETF THAT IS CLOSING ANDI DON T DO ANYTHING, WHAT HAPPENS Following the close of trading on exchange on or around 13 November 2025, any remaining investors will automatically be part of the compulsory redemption process. Please note that there will be a gap between thelast trading date on exchange andthe compulsory redemption date or final net asset value (NAV) date which might mean there is a difference in the final NAV and the NAV of 13 November 2025. There will also be a further gap between the compulsory redemption date and the paymentdate when beneficial shareholderswill receive the cash payments in respect of their ETFs. If you are holding affected ETF(s) through an intermediary or broker, it could takelonger for the cash payments to bepaid to you and your broker may apply additional fees. Please contactyour intermediary or broker to discuss this. 8. WHAT SHOULD I EXPECTTO HAPPEN IN THE PROCESS OF CLOSINGDOWN AN ETF The following timelinecan provide additional detail about the process and what investors should expect at each stage. 14 August 2025 The date of the announcementnotifying investors of the expected product closures. The notice period between the date of the announcement and the date of closure is intended to allow investors flexibility in managing their position. We encourage investors to sell their shares in the ETFs listed for closureon or prior to 13 November 2025, being the date on which these ETFs are expected to have their final trading day on exchange. Alternatively investors may stay invested in the products and be compulsory redeemed on or around 25 November 2025 through the process described below. 13 November 2025 This is the last day of exchange trading for the ETFslisted for closure as they will bedelisted at the close on 13 November 2025 or prior to open on the 14 November 2025. After 13 November 2025, investors will no longer be ableto buy or sell the products on exchange. Please note, from 14 November 2025 to 20 November 2025, it maystill be possible in some circumstances to trade out of your positionover-the-counter (OTC) by contacting your broker or trading platform.20 November 2025 This is the last day that the ETFs for closure will accept redemptions. After this date, any investor holdings will be subject to the compulsory redemption. 25 November 2025 As set out in Q2 above, these are the compulsory redemption dates and the dates at whichthe ETFs for closing will be valuedfor the final time and redeemed. The final value of investor s holdings will be based upon the price (also known as the NAV) of the products which are closing as of the closeon this date. WisdomTree will be communicating the final NAV of the ETFs for closing on or around 25 November 2025. Investors will be ableto find all final NAVs published onthe WisdomTree website www.wisdomtree.eu by looking up the relevant ETF. An updated table with final prices will also be published. 4 December 2025 This is the date on whichthe Issuer expects to make all payments to shareholders as per the record date of 1 December 2025. Payments will be made in the relevant share class currency of the ETF. Please refer to the product table on theback page of this document for more information. To the extent that you hold the products which are closing through a broker, custodian orother intermediary, please contactthat intermediary for information on how they will pass on the payments. Typically, you should expect toreceive the payment in much the same way you receive a dividend, a coupon on a bond or the payment of principle when the bond matures. It may take longer for the payment to find its way to your account if you hold the share through a broker or anominee account of another kind and your broker may apply additionalfees. Please note that WisdomTree has no control over or visibility onthe payment of redemption proceedsby individual intermediaries-brokers. We strongly recommend that investors contact their broker, bank orfinancial adviser who will be ableto provide further information regarding how this process will work for you. 9. WHY IS THERE A GAP BETWEEN THE LAST EXCHANGE TRADING DAY AND THE COMPULSORY REDEMPTION DATE The reason why the secondary market trading has been suspended around 8working days ahead of the closuresis because the secondary market ismade up of many participants and the trades can flow through numerousinvestment intermediaries who are trading on various exchanges and market venues. As the ETF trading ecosystem is subject to various levelsof intermediation, this can resultin a time lag between an end investor trading an ETF and that ETF position being reflected in the accounts of the various settlement systems. To ensure that the correct beneficial owner receives the proceeds from the ETFs which are closing, we have built in sufficient time for this settlement to happen. 10. IF I AM THE LAST INVESTOR IN THE ETFS BEFORE CLOSE, WILL I INCUR ADDITIONALCOSTS No. There are no additional costs charged by WisdomTree and borne by the investor due to the ETF closures. 11. WILL THE ETFs DEVIATE FROM THE BENCHMARK DURING LIQUIDATION The investment managers may needto sell off some of the funds underlying securities in the days leading up to the final NAV date to ensure efficient liquidation of the portfolios. This could result in the fund no longer tracking the index asper its investment objective and can cause additional tracking error.If this does occur, it is only expected to occur in the few days aheadof the final NAV date.
