ES0684262969 Tradeable RightsLocal Code. VIS.D The free allotment rights acquired on the market during the trading period will not entitle their holders to choose to receive the interim dividend. Only shareholders registered on 26 November2026 (record date) will be entitled to receive the interim dividend under this edition of the Viscofan Flexible Remuneration optional dividend scheme. 13/11/2026 ESCN ISSUER. VISCOFAN, S.A. TICKER. VIS EVENT. Scrip Dividend . Update WCA event ID. 5157086 The issuer released furtherdetails on the scrip dividend withex.date 25.11.2026. The Scrip Dividend will be implemented through a free.of.charge capital increase charged to reserves, which was approvedat the AGM held on 24 April 2026 and ratified by the Board of Directors on 22 October 2026. At the samemeetings, the company approved thedistribution an interim dividend charged to FYE 2026. Both the CapitalIncrease and the Interim Dividendare in the context of the second edition of the 2026 optional dividendsystem Viscofan Flexible Remuneration. Shareholders may choose between the following options. (a) to receive their remuneration in the formof new, fully paid.up shares (b) to transfer all or part of their free allocation rights on the market and (c) to receive their remuneration in cash by claiming an interim dividend for the 2026 financial year(Interim Dividend). By choosing oneof these options, the possibilityof electing any of the other two inrespect of the same shares is automatically excluded (it being understood that, if a shareholder choosesone of the Flexible Remuneration Options in respect of a part of their shares, they may still choose anyof the other options in respect ofthe remaining shares held by them). Shareholders will receive 1 freeallotment right for every 1 share of the company they hold. The rightswill be tradable on the Madrid, Barcelona and Bilbao Stock Exchangesbetween 25 November and 9 December2026, inclusive. After this period,any free allotment rights that have not been waived will automatically be converted into newly issued shares of the company. Shareholders may choose between. a) Not to transfer their free allocation rights. Inthis case, at the end of the trading period, shareholders will receive new shares at the ratio to whichthey are entitled, fully paid up. b) Receiving their remuneration in cash by claiming the interim dividend. In this case, the shareholder will be expressly waiving the free allotment rights corresponding to theshares they have chosen to receivethe interim dividend. c) Transferring all or part of their free allotment rights on the market. In thiscase, the shareholders would also choose to monetise their rights, although the consideration for the rights would depend on market conditions in general and on the trading price of those rights in particular.The election of one of the FlexibleRemuneration Options excludes thepossibility of opting for the others in respect of the shares or freeallocation rights in relation to which the option is exercised. Depending on their needs, shareholders may combine any of the options. The tax treatment of these alternativesmay differ. Those shareholders wishing to opt for option (b) above must do so between 25 November and 9 December 2026, both dates inclusive(COMMON ELECTION PERIOD). The Common Election Period will coincide with the trading period for free allotment rights on the market, during which shareholders wishing to opt for option (c) above may transfer their free allotment rights. Any freeallotment rights acquired on the market during the trading period willnot entitle their holders to choose to receive the Interim Dividend.Only those who hold shares in the company on 26 November 2026 (recorddate) shall be entitled to receivethe Interim Dividend under this edition of the Viscofan Flexible Remuneration optional dividend scheme. Consequently, those who acquire freeallotment rights during the trading period may only choose to. (i) receive their remuneration in the form of free shares of the company that are fully paid.up or (ii) transfer all or part of the free allotmentrights on the market. The gross amount of the Interim Dividend per share will be announced on 20 November 2026. The Company estimates thatthe gross amount of the Interim Dividend per share will be at least EUR 1.40. The payment of the InterimDividend to the shareholders who have chosen this Flexible Remuneration Option during the Common ElectionPeriod will be made on 21 December2026. Once this payment has been made, the resolution relating to theinterim dividend shall cease to have effect in respect of the amountnot paid to the shareholders who have chosen (either expressly or tacitly) any of the other Flexible Remuneration Options. The new shares tobe issued in the Capital Increaseshall be ordinary shares with a parvalue of EUR 0.70 each, of the same class and series as those currently outstanding. The new shares willbe represented by book entries andwill confer on their holders the same voting and economic rights as the company s ordinary shares currently outstanding, from the date on which the capital increase is declared subscribed and paid up. In particular, the holders of the new shares shall be entitled to receive interim dividend payments and supplementary dividend payments, if applicable, from the date on which the capital increase is declared subscribedand paid up.
